Section 2. BACKGROUND

City of West Hollywood

The City of West Hollywood, known as the “Creative City,” was incorporated in 1984. It is 1.9 square miles in area and is bounded by Beverly Hills to the west, Hollywood to the east, and Los Angeles to the north and south. West Hollywood is home to approximately 37,000 residents and over 3,500 businesses. Sixty percent (60%) of adults are college-educated, and 54% are employed in managerial and professional occupations. Approximately 40% of the City’s residents are gay or lesbian, 10% are Russian-speaking immigrants, and close to 20% are senior citizens.

Urban Art Subcommittee

Generally, the Urban Arts Subcommittee of the Arts and Cultural Affairs Commission (ACAC) oversees the implementation of the City’s Urban Art Program pursuant to Chapter 19.38 of the City’s Municipal Code that requires developers of certain projects to contribute one percent of the development valuation to public art. The Subcommittee takes the lead in making recommendations with respect to artist selection, schematic plan, final art plan and installation of the art. The Subcommittee also studies, develops and recommends policies, procedures and implementation strategies relative to public art conservation, the percent for art ordinance and other projects within its purview as determined by the Commission.
Arts and Cultural Affairs Commission

Through its Arts and Cultural Affairs Commission, the City of West Hollywood encourages broad participation in the arts by residents and visitors. The mission of the Commission is to promote and nurture the arts and cultural life of the City of West Hollywood by providing accessible arts and cultural programming for all residents; supporting quality arts and cultural organizations in the City; promoting arts and cultural activities; advising City Council on policies affecting the arts and cultural life of the City, its residents and the organizations that provide such services to the City.

Urban Art Collection

The City of West Hollywood initiated the Urban Art Program in 1987. The Urban Art Policy requires developers of certain projects to contribute one-percent of the project costs to public art. Developers can choose to place an on-site artwork or contribute the one-percent of the amount to the City’s Public Art and Beautification Fund.

In 2007 the Arts and Cultural Affairs Commission created the Urban Art Conservation Program to preserve the City’s permanent public art collection. This program periodically assesses the condition of public artworks in West Hollywood and notifies property owners with artwork condition information as well as their responsibilities to maintain these artworks under the City’s Urban Art Ordinance. The Urban Art Conservation program also serves as an information resource for property owners who need advice about art conservation.
