City of West Hollywood
Citywide Multifamily Development Study RFP

Response to Questions

1. Regarding the 15-page limit for the proposal, are you referring to single-sided or double-sided pages?

   The proposal (not including team bios) should be a total of 8 double-sided pages.

2. The RFP discusses parameters of new housing development. Is the City interested in similar information on rehab?

   The intent of the study is to focus primarily on new development, while acknowledging that the City is conducting other studies related to building rehab.

3. Can you provide an estimate of the budget for the project?

   The City anticipates the project budget will be approximately $100,000 – $150,000, though the amount may vary based on community outreach efforts or other components. A higher amount may be considered if necessary to complete the scope of work outlined in the RFP.

4. Does the City have accurate housing data for the last five- to ten- years? Is this data available in GIS and can it be easily used or will significant amounts of data cleaning be required?

   The City has the following data and will provide to the selected consultant team:
   - Number of project approvals (2001 – present)
   - Number of project approvals with affordable housing (2001 – present)
   - Number of Appeals (2001 – present)
   - Number of approvals with bonus/incentive (2001 – present)
   - Number of existing units proposed to be demolished (2001 – present)
   - Number of new units proposed (2001 – present)
   - Number of new affordable units proposed (2001 – present)
   - Scale of projects proposed (2001 – present)
   - Rent-stabilized housing data, such as evictions, rent increases, etc.

   The City will refine the above data as much as possible before the project kick-off in March. The City can provide the Zoning Map in GIS as a base, but cannot supply other GIS data or resources, so the selected consultant team may allocate time to format the available data.

5. If the purpose is to look at multi-family housing in the City, why are the mixed use zones not included? Should they be included to provide a complete picture of housing in the City?

   The study is focused on multifamily residential development in the R2, R3, and R4 Zoning Districts only. It is not intended to cover mixed-use development; however, understanding development in mixed-use zones may be useful for context.
6. What support will be provided by the City in this process? For example, can the City assist with outreach, meeting notices, meeting logistics, etc?

   The City will provide assistance to the selected consultant team with outreach events, meeting noticing, including assisting with meeting locations and scheduling.

7. Does the City have an online engagement tool that can be used for the study?

   The City does not have an online engagement tool for the study. The selected consultant team will be expected to utilize an online engagement platform during Task 1.
