

CITY OF WEST HOLLYWOOD COMMUNITY STUDY

REQUEST FOR QUALIFICATIONS FOR CONSULTING SERVICES

ISSUED: MARCH 6, 2018
DUE: April 6, 2018

Community Study
City of West Hollywood, California
Submittal Deadline: March 30, 2018

The City of West Hollywood, California invites a professional consultant or a team of consultants, to submit Statements of Qualifications to prepare a Community Study. This study will include the administration of a survey in three languages (English, Russian, and Spanish); stakeholder interviews; focus groups; pop-up workshops, and at least one community meeting. Other study components may also be featured based on suggestions from applicant consultant. The study will inform the City's priorities for the next social services funding process and present important updates to demographic data, comparing previous survey results, census information, and health department statistics/data.

The City anticipates entering into an agreement based on a negotiated fee and scope of work. The study and final report must be completed by March 1, 2019.

BACKGROUND/PROCESS

The City of West Hollywood is located in an urban and vibrant part of Los Angeles County and includes national destinations such as the Sunset Strip, the Avenues of Arts and Design, and a Gay and Lesbian nightlife area. The City is home to 37,000 residents, including a sizeable population of gay men, seniors, and immigrants from countries of the former Soviet Union. The City maintains a diverse social and physical character, with a high quality of residential life in a small area of 1.9 square miles. The City commits over $8 million annually to social services and transportation programs for its community members –the vast majority of this money is from general fund dollars.

West Hollywood is a diverse community of rental and owner residents, businesses, non-profit organizations, and visitors. Residents are active in government groups, including serving on an array of Advisory Boards and Commissions. Consensus building among diverse community representatives is a key component of the civic culture and will need to be a significant part of the community study process.

SCOPE OF WORK

The project approach should be educational and highly participatory. The consultant must demonstrate an ability to plan and facilitate a thorough, innovative process of community outreach and public participation, involving creative and effective strategies to seek community input.

The Scope of Work includes the following key tasks:

- In coordination with the City's Communications Department and Social Services Division, develop and implement a public outreach program that creatively and effectively notifies community members about the study, encourages their completion of the survey, solicits input from a wide range of stakeholders, and provides guidance during the process.
- Make modifications to the existing survey instrument, adding components to solicit input about public safety, mobility, economic factors, City-resident communication, and overall quality of life. Present options for a secure, online survey.
- Develop scope of stakeholder interviews, focus groups, pop-up workshops and conduct them.

- Develop scope of community meeting(s) and work with staff on the implementation.
- Prepare a report which includes comparison of survey data with previous surveys, the census, and health department data, and integrates information from interviews, focus groups, pop-up workshops and the community meeting(s).
- Make public presentations on progress to various Advisory Boards, Commissions, and the City Council and a final presentation to the Human Services Commission and the City Council.
- Complete report by March 1, 2019.
