Residential Eviction Moratorium

This webinar is brought to you by the City of West Hollywood’s Rent Stabilization and Housing Division

- Pete Noonan, Rent Stabilization and Housing (RSH) Manager
- Yazmin Spiteri, RSH Information Coordinator
- Gloria Aviles, RSH Information Coordinator
As a result of COVID-19 and public health precautions, many tenants have or may soon experience sudden and unexpected loss of income.

01 Eviction Moratorium
March 16, 2020 the City Council declared a local emergency and adopted a Residential Eviction Moratorium.
On April 6, 2020 the City Council amended the residential eviction moratorium preventing rent increases during and after the emergency period for units subject to the Rent Stabilization Annual General Adjustment (AGA), prevented eviction for unauthorized occupants, and extended the time to pay delayed rent to 12 months.

02 No rent increases
Beginning April 6, 2020 and through sixty-days after expiration of the local emergency period rent shall not be increased for occupied units subject to the City of West Hollywood Rent Stabilization Annual General Adjustment.

03 Temporary
The moratorium remains in effect until July 31, 2020 unless extended.
No eviction
Prohibits eviction for non-payment of rent due to financial impacts, or having unauthorized occupants, related to COVID-19

12 months to pay
Delayed rent must be paid within 12 months after the expiration of the local emergency

Eviction Defense
No 3-day notice or unlawful detainer during the emergency period or 12 months after the local emergency expires

A tenant unable to pay a portion or all rent due to financial impacts related to COVID-19 may take the following 3 steps:
01 Notify their landlord in writing of lost income and inability to pay full rent within 30 days after the rent is due

*Tenants should keep a copy of the letter and documentation/explanation provided for their records

You can access a template letter created by the City by visiting: www.weho.org/coronavirus
02 Provide documentation or an explanation of the financial impacts related to COVID-19

Any medical or financial information provided to the landlord shall be held in confidence, and only used for evaluating the tenant's claim.
Financial Impacts Include

but are not limited to, loss of household income based on any of the following:

Documentation

Documentation of financial impacts related to the COVID-19 crisis might include, but are not limited to the following examples:

- Proof of being sick with COVID-19 or caring for a household/family member that is sick with COVID-19
- Health authority communication about recommendation to stay home, self-quarantine
- Medical bills
- Receipts/invoices of child-care costs
- Explanation from the tenant as to how incoming finances have been impacted by COVID-19 and why tenant is unable to all or part of rent

Any medical or financial information provided to the landlord shall be held in confidence, and only used for evaluating the tenant's claim.
A tenant unable to pay a portion or all rent due to financial impacts related to COVID-19 can provide an explanation.

If documentation is unavailable: a tenant must provide an explanation of financial impacts related to COVID-19 and why the tenant is unable to pay all or part of the rent.

If the tenant provides documentation: should be accompanied by an explanation showing how the tenant is impacted and how that impact directly relates to COVID-19.

Any medical or financial information provided to the landlord shall be held in confidence, and only used for evaluating the tenant's claim.
03 Pay the delayed rent within 12 months after the expiration of the local emergency period

Payment plans encouraged but not required

Currently the local emergency period expires May 31, 2020 unless extended by the City Council
A tenant unable to pay a portion or all rent due because of financial impact from COVID-19 must do the following:

01 Notify your landlord in writing of financial impact related to COVID-19, and inability to pay full rent within 30 days after the rent is due

02 Provide documentation or explanation of the financial impacts related to COVID-19

03 Pay delayed rent within 12 months after expiration of the local emergency period

*Tenants should keep a copy of the letter and documentation/ explanation provided for their records

Can a landlord charge a late fee or interest on delayed rent that is paid within 12 months of the expiration of the local emergency?
No, a landlord may not charge a late fee or interest for unpaid rent when non-payment is due to financial impacts related to COVID-19.

In a situation where one roommate loses his or her job but the other roommate is still working, can the roommates together notify their landlord of inability to pay some or all of the rent?
Yes, the Eviction Moratorium lists loss of household income as a result of a lay-off or loss of hours (if related to COVID-19) as one of the covered financial impacts. If the household can provide documentation or an explanation of the lay-off or loss of hours related to COVID-19, then they qualify for protection under the Eviction Moratorium.

Do rules in the City of Los Angeles apply in West Hollywood?
No, dwelling units located within the City of West Hollywood are subject to the West Hollywood Eviction Moratorium and Rent Stabilization Ordinance. Dwelling units located in the City of Los Angeles are subject to the City of Los Angeles eviction moratorium and rent stabilization program.
